

Representatives abroad Inholland

Inholland works in close collaboration with a network of overseas representatives and agents who can advise you on the study opportunities at Inholland. Our representatives abroad can offer local support on your preparation to come study and live in the Netherlands. Please see the list of country representatives on the left side menu to find more information for your country.

Our representatives are carefully screened, high-quality student recruitment agents who know our educational institute and can give you correct advice. Our country representatives speak your language, know how life is for students abroad and are aware of the challenges students may encounter living and studying in the Netherlands.

Incoming students should be aware that agencies often ask for a service fee. Inholland is not responsible for nor do we benefit from the fees that agents charge you privately. Inholland encourages agents to remain within a certain, respectable margin.

At the moment, we have agreements with the following representatives.¹
