

Representatives abroad

Inholland University of Applied Sciences

Inholland works in close collaboration with a network of overseas representatives and agents who can advise you on the study opportunities at Inholland. Our representatives abroad can offer local support on your preparation to come study and live in the Netherlands.

Our representatives are carefully screened, high-quality student recruitment agents who know our educational institute and can give you correct advice. Our country representatives speak your language, know how life is for students abroad and are aware of the challenges students may encounter living and studying in the Netherlands.

Incoming students should be aware that agencies often ask for a service fee. Inholland is not responsible for nor do we benefit from the fees that agents charge you privately. Inholland encourages agents to remain within a certain, respectable margin.

If your country is not mentioned in the list, this means that at this moment we do not have contracts with representatives in your country. You can refer to the website for information about studying in the Netherlands and for help in your preparations. You can also contact us directly.

At the moment, we have agreements with the following representatives.
