1. The entrance exam

You can take part in the 21+ Entrance exam when you have applied to one of our programmes but do not meet the minimum entry requirements. The conditions of the exam are that you have to be 21 years or older on the date the programme starts and you need to be in the Netherlands to take the test*. Inholland does not accept the results of entrance exams from other Universities of Applied Sciences.

 Please note: The minimum age for the holder of a foreign diploma, which is sufficient for a degree programme in the home country, is set on eighteen years. The age requirement is also eighteen years for some cases in which the foreign candidate isn't able to submit a diploma. This mostly concerns refugees. The set date of the minimum age is the start of the academic year: September 1st.

1.1 Components of the entrance exam

The entrance exam consists of two components.

The first component is a capacity test developed by NOA, which is carried out at home behind your computer or laptop. Digital supervision is used to take the test at home, called proctoring. The capacity test is designed for us to examine whether you have sufficient knowledge and skills to be able to start a course at Inholland University of Applied Sciences. We do this on the basis of a Multicultural Capacity Test for Higher Level (MCT-H): your results are compared with a reference group in order to determine whether you indeed meet the required level for the study programme you have applied for. Please note that a resit is not possible for the capacity test. You can take part once per academic year.

Components of the capacity test

The MCT-H consists of eight subtests. These subtests measure four factors: logical reasoning & spatial insight, numerical abilities, verbal abilities and perceptual speed. In the MCT-H report, the results can also be displayed in an IQ score to determine a general intelligence level.

Logical reasoning & spatial insight

Logical reasoning is about the extent to which a candidate is able to discover logical relationships between images and if a candidate is able to orient himself spatially.

Numeric abilities

Here we look at the ability to calculate and the ability to reason with numbers.

Verbal abilities

Here the focus is on the knowledge of the meaning of words and the ability to see logical relations between words.

Perceptual speed

The ability to distinguish differences quickly and accurately is measured.

If you successfully completed the capacity test, you can take part in the second component of the entrance exam: the subject test or tests which take place at one of our institution's locations. Once you applied for the entrance exam you will receive more information about the exact location and date of the test.

2. Application

Applying for the entrance exam consists of 4 steps:

1. Add an enrolment request for an English-taught programme via Studielink. Make sure to leave the part that mentions your previously completed education empty.
2. Once you received login details, you can check your Selfservice. The registration form and additional information will be available there.
3. Upload the form and, if applicable, copies to apply for special procurements due to a disability in Selfservice.
4. When the registration form and other required documents have been received via Selfservice on time, you will find a payment link in the Studystore in Selfservice within 2 days or a week before the capacity test at the latest. When your payment is processed you will receive an email which confirms your enrolment to the capacity test of the entrance exam.

When you pass the capacity test, you will receive a placement form approximately a week before the subject test takes place. It will mention the subject test's time and exact location.

If you cancel your registration on or after the last registration date of the capacity test, you are no longer entitled to a refund.

If you do not participate in the test for which you have been invited without notifying us, it will be assumed that you are no longer interested in studying at Inholland University of Applied Sciences. In that case, we request that you withdraw your application in Studielink.

3. Preparation

The entrance exam is based on testing both your knowledge and skills. In Appendix 1 you will find an overview of the entrance exam for each particular bachelor programme. You will have to prepare for the test yourself; there are no courses to prepare you for the test. On our website we have an overview of the different subject tests and an explanation of how to prepare for the subject test and suggested books and websites.

4. Entrance exam requirements

The English entrance exam consists of two parts:

- The Inholland entrance exam capacity test and subject test (which depends on the degree programme of your choice (see Appendix 1));

5.4 What does the entrance exam involve?

The level of the entrance exam is comparable to the levels of the secondary school final exams. The subjects per programme may vary. For the specific subject of each programme please see Appendix 1. The exam is a written test. The form of the test may vary from multiple choice, open questions to a mix of both forms of questions.

No test grade will be assigned or the assigned grade will be void with retroactive effect if fraud is ascertained after the event. The candidate involved will receive a written notice regarding this matter no later than three weeks after the test. He or she may appeal against this decision within four weeks after the notice at the Board of Appeal Concerning Examinations. Addresses and detailed information can be found in the notice.

6. After the entrance exam

6.1 Result of the entrance exam

The results of the capacity test will be sent to you by email within 3 working days. You will receive your result of the subject test three weeks* after the test took place. If you pass the test and you meet the requirements (participation fees paid, applied for the course and 21 years of age or older when the programme starts) you will receive an Admission Statement. Note that this is only valid if you also obtain an English certificate (TOEFL or IELTS) before the program starts (September 1st). The Admission Statement of the entrance exam is valid for admission to the chosen bachelor programme at Inholland only.

*When participating in the subject test in July, it might take longer than 3 weeks for you to receive your result due to the summer holidays.

6.2 What to do if you disagree with the result

If you would like to know what you have done wrong on your test you can apply at the Bureau for Admission Tests to review your test on the exam review day. You will receive further information about the exam review day regarding the place and time and how to apply for this opportunity after the test.

If you do not agree with the entrance exam results, you may lodge an appeal with the Board of Appeal Concerning Examinations of Inholland. You will have to do this within six weeks after receiving the results. Or within six weeks after the review day if you have used this opportunity to review your work. The contact details and further information about the procedure can be found in the entrance exam result letter that you receive by post. The appeal only concerns the way the result is achieved; the Board of Appeal Concerning Examinations does not intervene with the (level of) rating of the result itself.

6.3 Resits

You are eligible for a resit of the subject test once you haven't obtained a result of 5.5 or higher for your first attempt. It is not possible to take a resit once you already have obtained a passing mark (5.5 or higher). You may resit the subject test(s) during the next testing opportunity, this is not possible after the test in August.
